74 Seated (not online)

49 states regulate respiratory care practice, and they all recognize NBRC credentials as the standards for licensure, forming the basis for reciprocity and enabling credentialed practitioners to relocate from one state to another with ease.

Some states require that a particular body accredit the academic program. Examples of licensure application requirements (among others) may include submission of an official

Alabama		X
Alaska	NA	NA
American Samoa	NA	NA
Arizona		X
Arkansas		X
California		X
Colorado		X
Connecticut		X
Delaware		X
Florida		X
Georgia		X
Guam	NA	NA
Hawaii		X
Idaho		X
Illinois		X
Indiana		X
Iowa		X
Kansas		X
Kentucky		X
Louisiana		Χ
Maine		Χ
Maryland		Χ
Massachusetts		X
Michigan		X
Minnesota		X
Mississippi		X
Missouri		Χ
Montana		X
Nebraska		Χ
Nevada		X
New Hampshire		X
New Jersey		X
New Mexico		Χ
New York		X
North Carolina	X
North Dakota		X
Northern Mariana Islands	NA	NA
Ohio		Χ
Oklahoma		Χ
Oregon		Χ
Pennsylvania		Χ
Puerto Rico	NA	NA
Rhode Island		X
South Carolina		X
South Dakota		X
Tennessee		X
Texas		Χ
US Virgin Islands	NA	NA
Utah		X
Vermont		X
Virginia		X
Washington		X
West Virginia		X
Wisconsin		X

Wyoming

Χ

Information not available Accepts NBRC credentials Information not available Accepts NBRC credentials Information not available Accepts NBRC credentials Accepts NBRC credentials Accepts NBRC credentials Accepts NBRC credentials Information not available Accepts NBRC credentials Information not available Accepts NBRC credentials Accepts NBRC credentials

Accepts NBRC credentials Profession not regulated